HOMMAGE Á JAN CALÁBEK (1903-1992)

Jan Calábek was a Czech scientist, botanist, teacher, filmmaker and innovator.

He was one of the pioneers and leading figures of scientific cinematography such as Étienne-Jules Marey, Lucien Bull, Jean Painlevé, Wilhelm Pfeffer, Gotthard Wolf.

His timelapse method of filming the micro-life of plants earned him international recognition. Calábek's creative cinematographic work won many international awards (Australia, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Uruguay, USA). His name was entered on the UNESCO list of cultural anniversaries in Paris in 2003.

This year we commemorate the 120th anniversary of Jan Calábek's birth.
